basis. We do not anticipate that there will be any grave difficulties raised to the collection of the rate. There may be some regarding the amounts to be contributed, but we do not think any of those mining companies which are being benefited will raise any objections. The company has already expended a very large sum of money primarily of course for their own immediate requirements, but by the works they have carried out and the machinery they have erected they have directly benefited a large number of mines by draining their ground and enabling them to work at deep levels. The benefits of the past must go for nothing; it is for future benefits that these companies will be required to pay drainage contributions, and if there are disputes raised they can only be adjusted by appeal to the Warden's Court for enforcement of the terms of the Drainage Act. But the visit of these directors is for another purpose, of course in conjunction with the former. A plan of operations has to be arranged, the first step of which is the sinking of the Tookey shaft a further depth of 100 feet to reach the same depth as the 400feet level of the Pumping Association shaft. There will be no difficulty in making the necessary connection, for the cross-cut from the 400-feet level of the Pumping Association shaft has now reached to within 35 feet of the line of the Tookey shart. The connection will give effective ventilation, and if found necessary a furnace can be erected in the Tookey shaft to increase the air current. Tenders for the sinking of this shaft are now called for
