THE LATE FIRE.

The jury at the inquest held last night on the fire in Pollen street, were unable to say how the fire originated. The rider of the verdict will commend itself to the public. In recent articles on the subject we suggested such a course, and we yet hope to see the suggestion carried out. The Fire Bri-gade were let down easily, for without loubt negligence and want of knowledeg of the position of the County fire plugs was shown by the officers and men on the recent occasion. If the County water had been turned into the Borough mains much property would have been saved. We have been shown a map of the township by the County Engineer, on which every fire plug on the County mains in the town marked. There is one in Cochrane on the 9-inch main to the School of Mines, opposite the junction of Martha street, near the Waio-karaka chool fence, and certainly within 250 feet of the site of the late fire. It was not used on the occasion, in fact we are quite safe in saving its existence was not known to the Fire Brigade. It is, there, however. The plan shows that from the Thames Hauraki along Campbell street there are 3 fire plugs on the 30-inch main, 5 in Pollen street, 3 in Cochrane to the School of Mines, on the 9-inch main, one in Abraham street, on Price's 14-inch main, three in Burke street, and one n Pahau street. In all 16 fire plugs, between Pahau and Coromandel streets. It cannot be said there are not sufficient to get water from in case but it must not be understood that all of these can be connected with the Borough mains. If it were so the contention of the County Council that ample provision is made to have water from the County supply available would be correct. This is the point at issue, The County will not allow the Borough to touch their valves, except in case of fire and in such circumstances, it is not the Borough Turncock, but the memers of the Fire Brigade, to whom the duty is entrusted. On the late occasion the Fire Brimada did not connect the two supplies, and it was not till Mr Batson and Mr Newman arrived at the fire that the County valve was. found, and used. We are quite in accird with the rider of the jury and think no matter 1 it is arranged the County water must be available in case of fire, without the firemen or the Borough Turncock being respon-sible. The County Council must see hat it is not the Borough Council it s obliging, but the whole of the inbitants of the Thames, and we trust the good sense of the members of the Council will approach the consideration of the rider of the jury in a pub-lic spirited manner. It is poor satisfaction to the tradesmen lately burnt out, to know that someone blundered, as t would be to others burnt out to norrow or next week, and just because an amicable understanding cannot be arrived at between the local bodies. Although somewhat foreign to the subject, the late unhappy occur-rence brings up again the advisability of there being only one governing body

water supply difficulty is not soon on the Thames. If a solution of the settled, and a serious fire occurs, it is ust possible the local authorities may e held responsible for the loss sustained, by reason of the neglect or incompetence of their servants. We again repeat our formerly expressed opinion that if the County Council is approached in a kindly spirit the suggestion of the rider of the Coroner's jury will be carried out. The local Foresters are requested (by advertisement appearing in another column) to attend the funeral of the late Mrs Geraty to-morrow, which will leave the residence. Rolleston St. at 2.30 p.m. for Shortland Cemetery.

CHARGE OF ATTEMPTED MURDER.

(Per Press Association.) WANGANUI, April 25. Clouston proceeded to the scene, and seeing the woman's serious condition, had her removed to the hospital. They then ascertained that at about 3.30 o'clock the woman, Mrs Caroline Pet-ters, was at Mr Coleman's second hand shop. This man was seen to accom-pan her over the town bridge, and was proved to have gone with her as far as the spot at which she was sub-

The police obtained a description of the man, and once set to work to trace him, scouring all the neighborhood, with the result that at about a quarter past seven, a man answering to the description, and who was subsequently identified as the man alleged to have been seen in Mrs Peters company, was arrested by Sergeant Dwyer and Constable Ward. The man gave the name of George Shanahan,

The medical gentlemen in attendance at the hospital considered it necessary to put the woman under chloroform. her face being so terribly smashed. Her jawbones were broken, the none was mashed, some teeth were knocked out, and her eyes were in a fearful state, while she was of course suffer. ing greatly from shock.

It was deemed advisable to have her depositions taken prior to the operation, and for this purpose Mr H. The hospital was for the time being constituted a Court, the prisoner being duly charged with attempting to murder Caroline Peters.

SOLUTION OF THE WATER DIFFIinquiry deserve more than passing at-tention and his suggested solution of the difficulty is of considerable importance to the Thames district. The Coroner first referred to the evidence given as to the origin of the fire, but had to admit that the information gleaned did not explain the matter. So far as the removal of goods was concerned he did not attach any special importance to that episode. We should here remark that the of the goods to a place of safety, was a perfectly possible and natural un-dertaking. But when the Coroner spoke of the unfortunate mistake or misunderstanding regarding the water sup-ply his remarks had an important bearing on the preservation of pro-perty in the district, and were closely organisation in defence of the interests of the sugar growers and manufacturfollowed by the jury and those present. The supply of water, said Mr Bruce, was inefficient and the evidence showed that had the County main been turned on valuable property and stock might have been saved. There was a strong presumption that had the proper supply of water been available the fire would have been confined to the buildings in which the conflagration originated. In the speaker's opinional of the strong property of the strong territory.

Sir John Forrest states the cost to Victoria, over the inilitary display, will be between twenty and thirty ion the 30 inch County main should be turned on every night. The County water supply had been constructed for the benefit of the people of the Thames, not for one particular body and if no better arrangement could be made with the County, who simply held the water as a sort of trust for the people, then he suggested that a petition to Parliament should be prepared and presented during the coming session, asking that the trust be altered. He was satisfied, from remarks passed by Ministers, that careful consideration would be given to such a petition. It appeared to him also that the Borough water supply was insufficient, and he was astonished at
